

Latin America Operations Manager

Latin America Operations Manager based out of the corporate headquarters in the US for a major international apparel uniform manufacturer and wholesaler.

Ideal candidate should have 5-10 years experience in multi plant operations primarily in Mexico and primarily concerned with managing the activities of production planning, fabric sourcing/purchasing, inventory control and budgeting in the Latin uniform manufacturing division.

Corporation has multiple owned manufacturing factories in Mexico and additional contractors in and about Latin America.

Will also consider a pro who has not yet acquired 100% of all these functions but can grow into the corporate position within 12 months !!
